

We Are Building a Circle

NICHOLAS REINER

We are building a circle
around our life.
We shrine circles
on each other's fingers & you draw them
from my unalloyed skies

& in our house
our walls moss
a temple green forest

& the forest's wind
brushes us as it
watercolors
our darkest nights
brushes your face gold
rushes us from the downpour inside
our lush room
to the slow rain
in the night
